Berlin, July 11.

Y^e King's Order a Piece is just publish'd here containing 12 Pages in Quarto, and divided into four Sections, the last of which is an Answer to the Question, Whether the King of Prussia ought not to have declar'd War against the Queen of Hungary before he caus'd his Troops to march into Silesia?

perhaps be glad to see how his Majesty acquits of that Accusation. to the Charge upon the King, for having violated the Rules of the Laws of Nature and Nations, making an Incurion into Silesia at the same time his Majesty promised the Queen of Hungary the most perfect Friendship, and assured most of the European Princes that he had no manner of Design to the Prejudice of that Princess, the Imputation is groundless.

It is well known that the Affairs of Europe were into a very dangerous Situation by the Death of the Emperor, because of the many Claimants that success'd to the Provinces comprehended in his Empire. 'Twas this that induc'd his Prussian Majesty and his Troops thither not only to cover his own Princes in that Country, but also to guard against all Form'd any Pretensions to Silesia.

Nevertheless, before he enter'd that Country he declar'd his Design so to do to the Minister of Hungary, who was then at Berlin, nay and to give Advice thereof to be given at Vienna; and after his Entrance into Silesia, he was a long time before he suffer'd the least Hostility to be committed: sent the Grand Marshal de Gotter to the Court of Vienna, the better to convince it that he had none of those secret Intentions, and to represent to it the Rights of the Brandenburg Family. Finally he gave full Power to the Count de Gotter to confer with the Ministry at Vienna, and caus'd Proposals to be made, which in all Appearance ought to have been favourably receiv'd. Mean time the King was disappointed in his Hopes. The Court of Vienna, very far from rejecting them, and declar'd that they should look on the King of Prussia as an Enemy so long as he remain'd in Silesia, and immediately they began to take Measures to dislodge him; which Proceeding his Prussian Majesty enter into Measures that were not so pacifick, and he began to assert the Justice of his Cause in a more effectual Manner than he had done hitherto.

These particular Circumstances prove, that the King try'd fair Means before he employ'd Force in order to possess himself of what belong'd to him; and Demands which he made may, according to the Rights of Nations, serve as well as a formal Declaration of War.

It has already been demonstrated, that by the very Decision of the Court of Vienna, there is no Necessity for a Declaration of War to accompany the demanding Possession of one's Right. This is the very Reason of the King of Prussia. The Right of Property which his Family enjoys, with regard to the Duchies of Silesia above-mention'd, is incontestably founded upon a Donation by reason of Death, upon a Treaty of Confraternity, confirm'd by the Emperor which was paid him by the States of the Empire. This was enough, according even to the Court of Vienna, to excuse him from the Formality of a Declaration of War. &c.

July 5. N. S. On the 25th of last Month the Coronation of the Queen of Hungary was perform'd at Pressburg with great Solemnity and Magnificence, and all the Ceremonies and Formalities observed on Occasions in that Kingdom. Her Majesty was seated in the Church of St. Martin. From thence a Procession was made by the principal Officers of the Kingdom, the Prelates, Nobility, Barons, and Knights of the Empire, who attended in their proper Habits and Number, on Horseback; her Majesty being in a Coach. They all pass'd out of the City towards a Field, before which a Scaffold was erected in the Field, and cover'd with Cloth; her Majesty ascend'd, with the Primate, Palatine, Bishops and Barons, and an Oath, holding up her Right Hand in publick Oath, to maintain the Liberties and Privileges of the Kingdom. Thence the Procession moved towards the Danube, and being come, according to ancient Custom, to a certain Rising Ground, her Majesty alighted from her Coach, and mounting a Horse with rich Furniture, drew a Sword, and turning to the four Quarters of the World, flourish'd it every Time she turn'd, in Token that she would defend the Kingdom against its Enemies on all Sides. Our last Advices from the Army in Silesia, are dated from Neiss the 30th past: A Party of the Austrians had on the 27th intercepted fourteen Waggon loads from Breslau, killing some of the Prussians that guarded them, and putting the rest to Flight. The Prussian Army was advanced again a little nearer to ours, and had posted themselves at Wanssen, between Sirelen and Brieg.

Hambourg, July 3. According to Letters of the 16th ult. from Petersbourg, there seems Reason to hope that notwithstanding all the Preparations which are making there for War, Affairs will be made up amicably with the Court of Sweden; the rather, because about the Beginning of the Week three Couriers arriv'd there from Stockholm with certain Dispatches, upon which the Count d'Osterman held several Conferences with the Ministers of France and Sweden, that lasted above two Hours each Time; the Result whereof was an Order sent to the Regiments assembled in Finland to halt, but that all the Ships there be still kept in Readiness for the necessary Service. The Letters add, that by Order of the Princess Regent all the Plate taken from the late Duke of Courland and his Adherents, is carry'd to the Mint to be melted into Species; and 'tis said, that besides the 300 Ounces of Gold, the Whole amounts to 1,800,000 Rubles. Her Imperial Highness advances happily in her Pregnancy.

Naples, June 24. N. S. On the 2d inst. a Courier arriv'd at Court from Constantinople, with Dispatches from Sig. Finochietti the King's Ambassador, giving an Account of his Arrival there on the 8th of May with the Ships of War St. Philip and Parthenope, and of his Publick Entry and Entertainment at the Porte with the same Formalities that are allow'd to the French Ambassador. He had had an Audience of the Grand Signior, when he deliver'd the Presents that were sent to his Highness in those two Ships. On the 6th, Sig. Sangro, a Lieutenant-general of the King's Forces, return'd hither from taking a View of the Garrisons, Fortifications and Magazines of our Places on the Borders of Tuscany, and waited on his Majesty to lay before him a Report of the Condition in which he found them. On the 14th came Advice from Malta, that the Ships of War St. Philip and Parthenope had put into that Port on their Return from Constantinople. Orders are given for getting in Readiness by the End of this Month, the large Train of Artillery, Ammunition, and Military Stores which they are at work about in our Arsenal. The Differences between this Court and that of Rome are entirely adjusted, and the King has ordered a Commission to be issued, appointing a new Tribunal here for examining such Ecclesiastical Causes as are reserved to the Crown, and also for levying a certain Tax yearly on the Ecclesiastical Revenues in this Kingdom, pursuant to the Articles of Agreement made with the Court of Rome.

Dublin, July 4. Last Sunday dy'd at Drogheda, William Sheppard, Esq; Alderman of that Town, and Justice of Peace for the Counties of Dublin, Meath, and Lowth; who has left a considerable Estate to his Son, and a large Fortune to each of his Daughters.

On Monday Night last a Sergeant and Corporal, both in Capt. Middleton's Company, in the Right Hon. the Earl of Rothes's Regiment of Foot on Duty in our Barracks, having some Words in an Alehouse in Barrack-street with one Wilson a Butcher, and one Ryan who pretends to be a Fortune-teller, and to be both Dumb and Deaf, but is neither; both Wilson and Ryan, and their Accomplices, fell on the Sergeant and Corporal, and abused them in a most cruel and barbarous Manner. The Butcher clove the Corporal's Skull so that his Brains were plainly seen, and Ryan, the pretended dumb Man, bid kill him, kill him; and when the Corporal lay as dead, Ryan call'd for a Sack or Bag that he might put him in it, and throw him into the Liffey. The Sergeant ran to call the Guard, and Wilson the Butcher in the mean time made his Escape. We are inform'd the Corporal died Yesterday Morning, and that the Sergeant is in a dangerous Way. The Fortune-teller (Ryan) a most notorious Rogue, was secur'd and put into Newgate, where he has been often before, and lies in Irons.

On Tuesday died Mr. Joseph Sherrard, belonging to the Post-Office.

The Right Hon. General Parker reviewed on Wednesday the Right Hon. the Earl of Rothes's Regiment of Foot in Oxmantown Green: They went thro' their Exercises and Firings with great Skill and Regularity, to the great Pleasure of the General and all present.

Wednesday being the Anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne in the Year 1690. when that Great Hero and Prince King William III. pass'd the River Boyne, and attack'd the Army of King James II. most advantageously posted on the other Side of the River, and most successfully routed the same and put them to Flight; the Protestant Inhabitants of this City, in Memory and Gratitude of that Glorious Victory, and the Liberty and many great Advantages we enjoy by the same, celebrated it with superlative Alacrity, Magnificence and Expence.

Last Monday Morning about one o'Clock, the Corps of the Right Hon. the Earl of Rothes was privately interred in St. Anne's Church.

Yesterday the best American Wheat was sold at our Quay for only 27 s. a Barrel, and the best Flour at 17 s. a Hundred; which is great and good News for our Poor.

Yesterday arriv'd Sir William Corbett, Knight of the Bath and a Commissioner of this Revenue, William Richardson of Summerseat, Esq; and several other Persons of Distinction.

Early this Morning died after three Days Indisposition, deservedly lamented, being a worthy, honest Man, Mr. Richard Reilly, a noted Printer on Cork-hill. He was scarce 30 Years old, but by his extraordinary Application to Business, was in a fair Way of making a handsome Fortune in a few Years, with an unblemish'd Character.

L O N D O N, July 13.

By the Dutch East-India Company's Ships arriv'd in the Texel from Batavia, &c. there came Advice, That the Chinese who trade to that Country had form'd a Conspiracy to massacre all the Inhabitants of Batavia, and to make themselves Masters of the Island of Java; but that the Plot was discover'd just as it was going to be put in Execution. Among others, they bring the following Particulars.

The Wretches, reckoning those both in the Town and the Country, were to the Number of about 90000, whose Gangs, consisting of 5 or 6000, scow'd in the Country, and committed great Disorders in the length a Detachment of 800 Men was sent to suppress them, under the Command of Messieurs I. van Aarden, who attacked and dispersed them.

Dublin, July 7.

AST Week dy'd at the Bishop of Kildare's House in Fishamble-street, Mr. Thomas Morecraft, the younger Son of a Baronet of that Name, and the very Person who made so pleasant a Figure in several of the Spektators, under the Character of WILL WIMBLE. That he was a worthy Gentle-and an agreeable Companion, is confess'd by all acquaintance, and will hardly be disputed by others, they turn to the Second Volume of the Spektators, in that of July 4, 1711. is the following short

WILL WIMBLE is Younger Brother to a Baronet, and now betwixt Forty and Fifty; but being no Buisness, and born to no Estate, he generally lives with his elder Brother, as Superintendent of the Game. He hunts a Pack of Dogs better than Man in the Country, and is very famous for finding out a Hare. He is extremely well vers'd in all the Handicrafts of an Idle Man. Besides having excellent Hand at twisting of Lashes for Whips, he is a May-Fly to a Miracle, and furnishes the Country with Angle-Rods. As he is a good-humoured, officious, Fellow, and very much esteem'd by all the Gentlemen about him. He carries a top-Root in his Pocket from one to another, or changes a Puppy between a Couple of Friends that perhaps in the opposite Side of the Country. Will is particular Favourite of all the young Heirs, whom he frequently obliges with a Net that he has weav'd, or a Setting-Dog that he has made himself. He now then presents a Pair of Garters of his own Knit to their Mothers or Sisters; and raises a great deal of Mirth among them, by enquiring, as often as he meets them, How they wear? These Gentleman-Manufactures, and obliging little Humours make of him the Darling of the Country.

Yesterday also dy'd at his House in Abbey-street, Sir Andrew Staples, Bart. a most eminent Merchant, of such a universal good Character, that his Death was a great Loss to the Publick. He is succeeded in his Estate and Estate by his eldest Son Sir Robert, an Edinburgh, July 6. Friday last died at his Seat in Rosedale, Archibald Douglas of Cavers, Esq; He was a Gentleman of the strictest Integrity and Honour, and was attached to the true Interest of his Country, he served in several Capacities, and always with success. He was Member of Parliament during the four Years of her late Majesty Queen Anne, and distinguished himself by an honest Opposition to the Measures which the Ministry were then pursuing, which he was early noticed when the Hanover Succession was in question. He was sometime Receiver-general and Treasurer for Scotland.

L O N D O N, July 14.

By a Mail arriv'd Yesterday from Flanders, 'tis positively affirm'd by Letters of the 24th ult. O. S. from Vienna, That General Neuperg has forbid his Army in Silesia to commit any more Hostilities; and that upon Mr. Robinson's Return to Town from Presbourg, it was rumour'd, that the Capital Articles of the Peace were already settled.

And according to those of the 29th ult. from Hambourg, all their Letters from Silesia and Berlin make mention of the Peace being very far advanced, by the Mediation of the Maritime Powers.

Last Tuesday Mr. Benjamin Nuthall, Merchant, Son to Benjamin Nuthall, Esq; Senior Alderman of Norwich, and Brother to John Nuthall, Esq; late Mayor of Norwich, was elected Alderman of Lynn, in the room of Robert Awbourn, Esq; who was Mayor in 1699 and 1707.

Fresh Irruptions of Scandal and Impertinence in the honest High Life Men, as advertis'd in the Champion of July 7, make it necessary to re-publish this Advertisement:

THE Author of PAMELA; or, Virtue Rewarded, thinks fit, once for all, to give the following Answer to the scurrilous Papers and Advertisements that have been scattered about the Town, by Persons who can say any thing, and have no other View in it, than to promote the Sale of a wretched Performance called Pamela in High-Life, which debases all the Characters in his Two Volumes; viz.

time their Accomplices had furnished themselves with Wooden Cannon and Ammunition, and they had made Mines. This being discover'd by five of those Mifcreants, the Guards were doubled.

On the 8th of October last we heard that one of the advanced Posts was attack'd by the Chinese, who destroy'd every thing they came to with Fire and Sword; whereupon the Government of Batavia immediately forbade the Chinese who dwelt in the Town to stir out of Doors, or to burn any Light in the Night-time, on pain of being put to Death. About seven o'Clock the Rebels set Fire to the Suburbs without the Gate of Utrecht, to draw our Men thither, and to give time to their Accomplices to act in the Town; but they were disappointed in their Hopes, and the Gentlemen of the Regency undertook the Guard of the Gates themselves.

At nine o'Clock 40 or 50000 of the Rebels advanced with horrid Shouts, to give the Signal to those that were in the Town; but the latter, such were the prudent Orders given every-where, durst not stir: In the mean time, those without committed great Disorders in the Country, but they retir'd next Day, and then all the Chinese that were in Town, except the Women and Children, were order'd to be put to the Sword; which was executed accordingly.

On the 9th, about two in the Morning, the whole City was in Flames, the Chinese, alarm'd at the Fate they were to suffer, having set Fire to their Houses; so that a great Part of Batavia is reduc'd to Ashes.

They hoped in a short time to extirpate the rest of the Rebels, who are retir'd farther into the Country: And a Reward of 5000 Rixdollars is promis'd, for whoever shall deliver up either of their two Ringleaders alive, and 1000 to whoever shall kill them. But a General Amnesty is publish'd for all the other Chinese who shall submit themselves before the 22d of November, according to which several Hundred were already come to Batavia.

The Dutch during all these Troubles lost little more than a hundred Men.

On the 2d inst. O. S. there was a great Ball at Herenhauzen, which was open'd by his Britannick Majesty and the Princess of Orange.

The Preliminary Convention for Trade and Navigation between France and Sweden, stipulates in the third Article, That the French shall enjoy in the Town, Port, and Territory of Wismar, a Privilege exclusive of all other Nations, of paying only three-fourths per Cent. Duty ad Valorem, for the Merchandize and Effects which they shall import there on their own Bottoms. This Convention was sign'd at Versailles the 25th of April last by M. Amelot and M. Teflin, and was ratify'd there the 22d of May by the King.

Letters of the 16th ult. from Lisbon say, that they have put on board five Men of War there for Goa, 54400 Muskets, 20000 Granados, 130000 Quintals of Gunpowder, 4000 Swords, 70 Pieces of Cannon, and 462 Chests of Cloaths for the Soldiers; with which Succour they don't doubt but to enable the Portuguese to drive the Indians quite out of that Island. There has been an Auto de Fe at Lisbon, at which near forty Persons were condemn'd to Punishments of various Kinds.

The Jennett, Crookenden, the Haslemere, Walker, the Elizabeth, Duce, and the Fanny Newton, are arriv'd off of Shoreham from Barbados. They came out the 24th of May in Company with the Cumberland, Bishop, and the Edinburgh, Blizard, with whom they parted the Day after they came out, but believe they were going for Antigua, to join the Anglesea, the Saltash, and Loefstall Men of War, who were to sail from thence about the 5th of June for England.

The Stubbington, Maugier, from Leghorn and St. Remo, was well the 9th inst. about eight Leagues to the N. N. W. of Portland, and had been out twenty-three Days.

On Friday last the Corpse of Francis Hill, Esq; who was interred in Chelsea Church on the 10th of June last, was taken up in order for the Coroner's Inquest to sit upon it, it being suggested that he died not a natural Death.

On Saturday Morning last about two o'Clock the Derbyshire Waggon, belonging to Mr. Whaley at the Bell Inn in Woodstreet, was robb'd by two Foot-pads on Finchley-Common. They took from the Waggon upwards of seven Pounds, and he making a stout Resistance, they stab'd him in three several Places in the Back, each being above two Inches deep; they likewise cut the Sinews of his Neck, inasmuch that his Head lay upon his Shoulder, after which the Villains made off, but some Higglers soon after passing by, he was taken up and carried to Finchley, but his Life is despair'd of.

On Saturday last died at his Chambers at No. IX. in the Paper-Buildings in the Temple Tho. Bambridge, Esq; late Warden of the Fleet, and who (by an Act of Parliament) was remov'd from the said Office for his cruel Treatment of the Prisoners confin'd there.

The same Day died Mr. Nicholas, an eminent Apothecary in Barnaby-street, Southwark.

THE OCCASIONAL PAPER, Number III.

On Disputes and Controversies in Religion.
What have the greatest Part of the Comments and Disputes upon the Laws of God served for, but to make the Meaning more doubtful, and to perplex the Sense? What hath been the Effect of those multiplied, curious Distinctions, and acute Niceties, but Obscurity and Uncertainty, leaving the Words more unintelligible, and the Reader more at a Loss?

DR. BATEMAN'S Pectoral Drops, universally known, and justly famous for curing and immediately giving Relief in all Fevers, Agues, Distempers, Coughs, Stone, Gravel, Asthma, Colic, Consumption, Pains in the Breast, Limbs, and Joints, published by Order of his Majesty's Royal Grant of Letters Patent.

The PATENTEES hereunder mention'd, from their Wholesale Warehouse in Bow Church-yard, London, request that the following Orders be duly made;

That the Bottle they buy is seal'd with the Bear's Head, but these Words round it, BY THEIR PATENT, and none other; That the Bottle they buy is seal'd with the Bear's Head, but these Words round it, BY THEIR PATENT, and none other; Caution is absolutely necessary to prevent being imposed by notorious and dangerous Counterfeits, which now many Streets about Town and the Royal Exchange.

We the Patentees and true Preparers of these most useful Drops, in Gratitude for the Universal good Reception they for many Years met with, and out of a tender regard for the Safety of those, who may, for the future, be deceived by the same, think ourselves bound to give this Caution to the World, that they may not be imposed on by dangerous Counterfeits, instead of a safe, certain, and experienced Medicine: At the same Time declaring our intention, of preparing and vending the same, with Care, Fidelity, and regard to the Publick Welfare, as well all along done, and at the same Rates, so that all who be served with it at their Old Warehouses in Bow Church-yard, London, and in Northampton, at heretofore, where of its Virtues and Excellency may be had gratis.

By their very Humble Servants, the Patentees, B. Okell, W. and Clara Dwyer.

N. B. Remember these Words round the Seal, BY THEIR PATENT, for if the Bottle be not so seal'd, it is a Counterfeit. And also that there are not any other in the Bill of Directions given with each Bottle than these.

The only true Specifick Chymical Liquor For Dissolving and bringing away the Stones, in the Kidneys, Ureters or Bladder; and for curing the Strangury, and all Heat, Pain, or Difficulty in making Water.

THE very first Dose of it gives ease in a Moment, even in the most raging either Stone or GRAVEL, and at once entirely frees the patient from the STRANGURY, and all Heat, Pain, and Difficulty of Urine; it dilates the Ureters, makes them disengage the Crumblyings of large Stones, together with the Gravel, may pass freely from the Reins, and be voided with Urine without Pain; effectually cleanses the Bladder, and all Urinary Passages from gritty Calculus; ter; heals all internal Excoriations or Sores of the directly takes off all Pain in the Back, and those Pains like the Cholick, and may be depended upon to dissolve the Stones, so as infallibly to cure that most miserable Distemper.

It gives such sudden and unspeakable Relief, that ever takes but one Dose of it, will be thoroughly cured of its surprising Efficacy, which many Hundreds have experienced to their infinite Satisfaction.

It is such an agreeable Diuretick and powerful Medicine that it infallibly prevents the Stone in those who are afflicted with Gravel only; and for the perfect Cure of extreme Gravel, and all Disorders of the Kidneys, Ureters, or Bladder, occasioned thereby, is the only true Specifick Remedy that can be surely and safely rely'd upon, as it gives ease as soon as taken, (even when nothing else will) and accomplishes a perfect Cure without the least Trouble, or uneasiness to the Patient, agreeable to the Stomach, and fortifying to the whole Body. It is to be had only of the Dispensary at the Sign of the Crown, over-against the Dispensary in Coleman street, near Cheshil, London; at 2s. 6d. the Bottle, seal'd up with Printed Directions at large.

Dublin, July 7.

AST Week dy'd at the Bishop of Kildare's House in Fishamble-street, Mr. Thomas Morecraft, the younger Son of a Baronet of that Name, and the very Person who made so pleasant a Figure in several of the Spektators, under the Character of WILL WIMBLE.

That he was a worthy Gentleman and agreeable Companion, is confess'd by all acquaintance, and will hardly be disputed by others, they turn to the Second Volume of the Spektators, that of July 4, 1711. is the following short of him. WILL WIMBLE is Younger Brother to a Baronet, and now betwixt Forty and Fifty; but being no Buſin'ſs, and born to no Estate, he gene- rally lives with his elder Brother, as Superintendant of the Game. He hunts a Pack of Dogs better than Man in the Country, and is very famous for find- ing out a Hare. He is extremely well vers'd in all the Handicrafts of an Idle Man. Besides having an excellent Hand at twisting of Lashes for Whips, he is a May- Fly to a Miracle, and furnishes the Country with Angle-Rods. As he is a good- natured, officious, Fellow, and very much esteem'd on account of his Family, he is a welcome Guest at every House, and keeps up a good Correspondence with all the Gentlemen about him. He carries a Root in his Pocket from one to another, or changes a Puppy between a Couple of Friends that perhaps in the opposite Side of the Country. Will is particular Favourite of all the young Heirs, whom he frequently obliges with a Net that he has weav'd, or a Setting-Dog that he has made himself. He now then presents a Pair of Garters of his own Knit- ting to their Mothers or Sisters; and raises a great deal of Mirth among them, by enquiring, as often as he meets them, How they wear? These Gentleman- Manufactures, and obliging little Humours make him the Darling of the Country.

Yesterday also dy'd at his House in Abbey-street, Sir Under Staples, Bart. a most eminent Merchant, of such a universal good Character, that his Death was a great Loss to the Publick. He is succeeded in his Estate by his eldest Son Sir Robert, and we hear from Kilkenny, that James Agar, Esq; was dy'd last Week to the Hon. Miss Flower, Daughter of Lord Castledurrow, a Lady of great Beauty and

L O N D O N, July 14.

By a Mail arriv'd Yesterday from Flanders, 'tis posi- tively affirm'd by Letters of the 24th ult. O. S. from Vienna, That General Neuperg has forbid his Army in Silesia to commit any more Hostilities; and that upon Mr. Robinson's Return to Town from Presbourg, it was rumour'd, that the Capital Articles of the Peace were already settled.

And according to those of the 29th ult. from Ham- bourg, all their Letters from Silesia and Berlin make mention of the Peace being very far advanced, by the Mediation of the Maritime Powers.

Last Tuesday Mr. Benjamin Nuthall, Merchant, Son to Benjamin Nuthall, Esq; Senior Alderman of Nor- wich, and Brother to John Nuthall, Esq; late Mayor of Norwich, was elected Alderman of Lynn, in the room of Robert Awbourn, Esq; who was Mayor in 1699 and 1707.

This Day the Right Hon. the Lord Wenman was married to Miss Herbert, Sister to Philip Herbert, Esq; Member for Oxford.

On Sunday last the Lady of Richard Arundel, Esq; Surveyor-General of his Majesty's Board of Works, and Member of Parliament for Knaresborough in Yorkshire, was safely deliver'd of a Daughter, at his House in Cork-street, Burlington-gardens.

Yesterday the Lord Chief Baron Probyn, and Mr. Justice Page, set out to hold the Assizes for the Midland Circuit, which begins at Northampton this Day.

This Day the Lord Chief Justice Willes, and Mr. Justice Fortescue, set out in order to hold the Assizes at Rochester, in the County of Kent.

To-morrow the Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor holds the Third General Seal after Trinity-Term, at Lincoln's-Inn Hall.

Last Week Col. Bland, Deputy Quarter-master, went to Barnes Common near Putney, and took a Survey of the Ground, in order for the Incampment of several Regiments of Horse there.

A few Days since Joseph Smith of Privy-garden, Esq; was married to Miss Whitick of Red-Lion-Square; a beautiful young Lady, and a very considerable Fortune.

Yesterday the Coachman belonging to Sir Robert Sut- ton, Knight of the Bath, dropp'd down dead of an Apoplectick Fit as he was harnessing his Horses in the Stables near Grosvenor-Square.

We hear that on Wednesday last the Editor of Memo- rials and Characters of Eminent and Worthly Persons had the Honour of waiting on his Grace the Lord Arch- bishop of Canterbury with the said Book, which was most graciously receiv'd.

Fresh Irruptions of Scandal and Impertinence in the honest High Life Men, as advertis'd in the Cham- pion of July 7, make it necessary to re-publish this Advertisement:

THE Author of PAMELA; or, Virtue Rewarded, thinks fit, once for all, to give the following Answer to the scurrilous Papers and Advertisements that have been scattered about the Town, by Persons who can say any thing, and have no other View in it, than to promote the Sale of a wretched Performance called Pamela in High- Life, which debases all the Characters in his Two Vo- lumes; viz.

"That when any Person who is above Scandal and scandalous Practices, shall say any thing worthy of No- tice, and set his Name to what he publishes, he shall receive a proper Reply."

Bank, June 1, 1741.
WHEREAS JOHN WAITE, late one of the Cashiers of the Bank of England, about Forty Years of Age, and about Five Foot Eight Inches high, well set, round visag'd, small grey Eyes, very light Eye-brows and Eye-lashes, and of a most remarkable fresh Complexion, absented himself on Wednesday the 13th of May last from his Duty at the Bank, and is supposed to have secreted, or taken away with him from the Bank, East-India Bonds amounting to a considerable Value;

And Whereas Warrants are issued for Apprehending and Taking the said John Waite, This is to give Notice, That whoever shall apprehend and secure the said John Waite, to be dealt with according to Law, shall receive of the said Governor and Company the Sum of Three hundred Pounds over and above the Two hundred Pounds offered in former Advertisements, in the Whole Five Hundred Pounds.
David Legros, Secretary.

ture at London.

N.B. In a short Time will be publish'd the Satires, Epistles, and Art of Poetry, in the same Size, Method, and Price as this, to compleat Horace's Works.

Printed for J. Oswald, at the Rose and Crown near the Man-tion House.

The Publisher is desired to take Notice, That J. Davidson, the Publisher of the Odes of Horace in Numbers, has had the repeated Assurance to publish in the New-Papers, as well as in the Title of his Book, that his Translation is a Literal one, whereas it is evident to every one that has compared his Performance with the Original, that it is only a Translation of Dacier (which is rather a Paraphrase than a Translation) with some Notes taken from him and other French Authors.
This will appear more plainly by the Half-sheet of Remarks given Gratis at J. Oswald's Shop. And as to all the unjust Representations that the said J. Davidson has made of Mr.
Watson's Translation of Horace, it is enough to say, that it is the last Refort to support the declining Sale of his Performance; and so deserves only to be despised and neglected.

The only short and infallible Cure for that reigning Disease the SCURVY, and all Scorbuted tho' arrived to the highest and most inveterate Degree, and ever so many Years standing, and that without any tedious operation or the least Purging, which by an unaccountable is generally advised, although always found rather to confirm confirm the Scurvy than cure it.

By the so much famed and most pleasant Chymical DRUGS

WHICH, without the least Trou-

Confinement, or any Disorder whatever, do cure at the true Cause of the Scurvy, and entirely destroy it, by Sorbuck Humours and Effects, Root and Branch, so as to return again, as many Thousands of both Sexes have experienced, and as all who take them in 7 Days time will be convinced they almost instantly alter the morbid State of the Juices, purify Blood, (sweeten all the Fluids, cleanse them from impurities, directly clear the whole Habit from all Spots, Blisters, black blue Marks, Itchings, foul Eruptions, or Breakings out, swell-ings of the Limbs languid Heaviness of the whole Body, and Pains, Weakness of the Back, and all the vast Variety of Symptoms by which the Scurvy imitates and often lies concealed the Appearance of the Rheumatism, and many other Disorders.

And for strengthening the Stomach, immediately causing Appetite, causing a regular and easy Digestion of Food, and all windy Effects and Disorders of the Stomach (which Head-achs, Vapours and other Indispositions) by the other Medicine upon Earth can compare with them, and that besides infallibly curing the Scurvy in all its Stages and appearances, they also assuredly and immediately cure the Gout in Virgins, Worms of all Kinds in young or old, and all other Chronic Diseases, (which are chiefly occasioned by and sturulent Crudities in the Stomach and Bowels) and prevent Fevers, Agues, and other acute Illnesses.

They are wonderfully Cordial and Restorative, they enliven the whole Machine, and as soon as taken, make the pleasantly Lightness, Brisk and Vigorous in action, and good for all Sorts of Persons, to preserve as well as to found and healthy State of Body.

But the great Reputation these famous and pleasant Chymical Drops have to universally gain'd among Persons of all for their suddenly and infallibly curing the Scurvy, and all tick Humours, and other Chronic Diseases, in such an easy agreeable Manner, have occasioned many to imitate them under the same, and others under other Names; Be careful
